Fund Manager's Comment

The Fund's net performance for the month of October 2025 came in positive at +0.41%, outperforming the benchmark by 14 bps. The average 3-month time deposits rate of banks in Indonesia dropped by 14 bps to 4.02% from 4.16% at the end of the previous month. Rupiah depreciated against USD from 16,500 to 16,665 per USD. 1-year government bond yield decreased in September 2025 by 34 bps to 4.99% from 5.33% at the end of the previous month. BI rate at the end of September 2025 decreased from 5.00% to 4.75% from the previous month. Going forward, we remain positive on the local bonds market. We expect this fund to benefit under current rate cut cycle and supported by better liquidity as a result of lower SRBI Issuances by Bank Indonesia. Additionally, although current global financial markets volatility is moderating, we remain nimble and continue to monitor the situation and adjust our allocations as needed.
